Triad Surveyor Passes Professional Land Surveying Exam

Woodinville, WA, February 10, 2015 – Greg Juneau, PLS, Triad Vice President and Director of Surveying, recently announced that Luke M. Miller has successfully passed the six-hour national exam and the two-hour Washington state-specific exam for Professional Land Surveying.

“It’s a great accomplishment for Luke and a huge event in any surveyor’s career,” commented Juneau. “Receiving his PLS license is his reward for a lot of hard work and hours of studying. It’s just great when these young guys make a commitment to the profession.”

Miller joined Triad in 2005 after completing the two-year Land Surveyors certification program at Renton Technical College. His specialties include boundary and topographic surveys, ALTA/ACSM Land Title Surveys, utility route surveys, and boundary line agreements and adjustments. Luke has a Bachelor’s degree in Business Management from Northwest University.
